Basket Ball.

The Lindsey-Wilson Training School defeated Shepherdsville High School boys' team in basket ball by a score of 104 to 3 here Friday night.

The team work of L. W. T. S. boys was unexcelled in the last half when they sometimes made as many as three goals in a half minute.

The work of Jim Lewis in running the floor and the work of Wesley in getting the ball out of the mix-ups had the opponents guessing. Cook did effective work in the last half, while Calhoun and Powers held the S. H. S. boys safely at bay as guards.

Reece and H. Popplewell who went in the last half had both been sick in bed last week, but did effective work.

The determination and grit exhibited by L. W. T. S. girls' team has made Lindsey no less proud of their girls, especially as they defeated one of the strongest teams of the State. The game was exciting and bitterly contested from the first, and Columbia won by sheer pluck and determination.

Saturday evening the male basketball team of Shepherdsville moved over to the High School and played the club of that institution before a large crowd, the final score being 41 to 10 in favor of the local quintet. The visitors were clearly outclassed, making only one field goal in the entire game. Shepherdsville was the first to score making two points after fouls, but the High School machine soon began to work and they were never headed. The playing of Lewis featured.

Buys a Fine Farm.

Mr. Frank Hill, who is a brother of Mr. Fred Hill, a druggist at this place, purchased recently a fine 135 acre farm, known as "Plewood," in Fayette county, four miles from Lexington. The Lexington Leader says the farm is one of the show places of Fayette county. Mr. Hill was reared in Columbia, but for a number of years has been a citizen of Wayne county, where he has been engaged in stock raising. He will remove his cattle to Fayette county and will continue to buy and sell fine stock. The price of the farm is not given, but it is understood to be big figures. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will remove to their new possessions in February.

All parties indebted to Russell & Eubank will please call and settle this week. We are ready to go for our spring goods the last of the week and need the cash.

Russell & Eubank.

Married at the Parsonage.

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. E. S. Rice, a very prominent farmer and one of the best citizens of Adair county, whose home is in the Cane Valley section, and Miss Myrt Squires, a daughter of Mr. W. F. Squires, one of Adair county's best young women, were married by Eld. Z. T. Williams, at the home of the minister. It was a very quiet affair.

W. T. Hodgen, of Campbellsville, who perhaps is the largest wild animal dealer in Kentucky, sent a representative here in the person of his son, Ralph, last Wednesday, in a special car, advertising for live rabbits, asking for 1,500 for which he was willing to pay 15 cents cash per rabbit. This dealer of wild animals has made a reputation all over the United States. He buys all kinds of animals and fills orders, not only in Kentucky, but from Maine to California. He is not only a very good business man, but he stands high with the white population and also with his own race. He is as prompt to meet his obligations at this office as any man on our books.

John D. Sharp, of Amandaville, is excusable. The cold, disagreeable weather kept him away from Columbia at the opening of circuit court, the first time he has missed for many years. He sent a representative in the person of W. E. Morgan, who is also a regular.

A letter from Mr. S. L. Coffey, dated Groveland, Ga., Jan. 19th, states that he has a good school and is well pleased with the climate and the hospitality of the people. He will teach in the South until summer.

GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

BY J. KNOX HALL.

Support your home merchants. This is something that every man ought to be proud to do. Your home merchants are men who are always with you. They are men of tried integrity. They are men who have a livelihood to earn and reputation to uphold. They are not in business today and out tomorrow. They do business at the same old stand day after day and year after year. You buy an article of your home merchant and if it is not exactly as he represents it to you, you can always find him, and he is more than willing to make his word good. Besides, he is a man, who, no doubt, has let you have goods time and again on your promise to pay after harvest or when the spring opened and you could get work. This is something you should think of when ordering goods of a foreign firm. Will they "carry" you till after harvest? No indeed, if you want their goods you must pay for them when you get them, and run the chances of the coffee being half peas and the sugar half sand. It never pays to patronize any smooth speaking stranger who tells you that the men whom you have known and done business with for years are swindling you. He, himself, is not around on a mission of mercy that he may take a place among the throng that will walk the streets of the New Jerusalem.

In many towns of this size women's clubs are numerous, and while they are criticised by some, they are certainly beneficial in many ways. In small towns and villages the club has been a special providence to many a weary mother or to the woman of few early advantages and large aspirations. In our great cities women's clubs have been the first to institute social reforms and to call public attention to crying evils.

You want good advice? Rise early. Be abstemious. Be frugal. Attend to your own business, and never trust it to another. Be not afraid to work, and diligently, too, with your own hands. Treat everyone with civility and respect. Good manners insure success. Accomplish what you undertake. Never be mean—rather give than take the odd shilling. Honesty is not only the best policy, but the only policy. Time is money. Make your own word as good as your bond. Reckon the hours of the day as so many dollars, the minutes as so many cents. Live within your income. Ninety-nine may say no, the hundredth yes. Take off your coat; don't be afraid of manual labor. America is large enough for all. Keep out of politics unless you are sure to win. You are never sure to win, so look out.

When the tongue of trade is coated, when the eyes and limbs of the clerk are dull and languid, when the raging fever tackles the empty vitals of the till, when the spider roosts in the empty cash box, and bouquets of decay are on the chandelier, it is conclusive that the advertising doctor has not been consulted.

All honor to the man who earns his living by honest toil. He, it is, above all others, who is always pulling for better things. He is always on the front seat of the community band wagon. He is the first resident to greet the stranger and tell him that he is visiting the best town in the state.

When a town ceases to grow it commences to die, and the more the people try to kill off each other in their business and good name, the more rapidly will utter ruin come to all. Stand together for the advancement of every citizen. If a man shows ability to prosper do not pull him back with jealousy or weigh him down with cold indifference.

Many a woman goes out shopping dressed in silk and enveloped in perfume whose hard-working husband hasn't had a new suit of clothes or a decent meal in five years. Yes, and many a loafer stands on the street with a stinking pipe in his face, his tank full of booze and his mouth full of profanity, whose hard-working wife hasn't had a new dress or a kind word since she was married.

Every citizen in a town should be interested in its prosperity. One of the best ways to help a town is to speak well of it. It is true patriotism to stand by your own town, and interests that effect the town should effect every citizen.

A perfect town is that in which you see the farmer patronizing the home merchants, the laborers spending the money they earn with their own tradesmen, and all animated by a spirit that will not purchase articles abroad if they can be bought at home.

We are pleased to see many of our citizens taking active interest in improving their homes and grounds. A little effort on the part of each citizen would give our town a prominent position upon the map. Nature has done much for us in picturesque scenery, now let us do much for ourselves along the improvement line.

WANT TO KNOW the whereabouts of David H. Lawhorn, who has been missing from home since Jan. 13. He left a woman with family on suffering and is badly needed at home. If any one has seen or heard of him, please let me know by card or letter Mrs. Lula Lawhorn, Crocus, Ky.

Business Meeting at Baptist Church.

The regular business meeting of the Baptist church will be held on Wednesday night, Jan. 26, 1916. There is important matter to be considered, so we urge a full attendance of the membership. O. P. Bush.

Soda Fountain for Sale.

The furniture and fixtures at Gill & Waggener's store must be sold at once. Easy terms if wanted. For further particulars address, Murray Ball, Edmonton, Ky.

The Louisville Herald of January 21, says: James Garnett, who recently retired as Attorney General of Kentucky, was the guest of honor at a banquet at the Watterson last night given by the members of Hiram Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. Mr. Garnett is past grand master of the grand lodge of Masons of Kentucky. Mr. Garnett formerly lived at Columbia, Ky., but he has now opened a law office in Louisville, and will make his home here. Covers were laid for seventeen at the banquet last night, and Isaac Woodson presided as toastmaster.

Must Settle.

All persons indebted to the late firm of Page & Taylor, must call and settle at once. The partnership has been dissolved, and the old business must be wound up. Page & Taylor.

Mr. O. C. Hamilton, who has been the electrician for Mr. A. H. Ballard for some time, has bought a half interest in Dr. Page's drug store, and the inventory was taken last week, and Mr. Hamilton is now at the store. He is a very exemplary young man, one who will be attentive to business, and who has many friends with him.

We need every dollar that is due us, and those who are indebted will please call without further delay. We do not want to publish another warning notice. 13-21 Gill & Waggener.

Mrs. Octavia Whited, who lives near Garlin, announces the engagement of her daughter, Oma, to Rev. Perry L. Wolf, who is a minister in the U. B. Church, his work being on the Albany circuit. The marriage will take place early in the spring.

Farm for Sale.

My farm containing 200 acres, three miles northeast of Columbia, and one mile from Campbellsville pike. Call on me. W. R. Williams.

There have been eight or ten professions at the U. B. Church since the revival services commenced. The meeting will continue through this week, and there is a probability of it going into next week. The interest is growing.

Death of a Good Woman.

Last Tuesday morning, January the 18th, at 6 o'clock, Mrs. Clemmie Eubank, who was the wife of Joe Eubank, died at her home in Cane Valley. She was about seventy-five years old, a consistent member of the Baptist Church, and had been for many years. She was a woman who enjoyed the friendship of every body in the community, and in her death Cane Valley loses a resident who will not soon be forgotten. She is survived by her aged husband, who has passed his eightieth mile stone and a number of children, all grown and married. She was a daughter of Daniel Bryant, and grew up in the Clear Spring neighborhood. Her father was an honorable citizen, a gentleman who had the respect of the people of Adair county. Mr. Gaither Bryant, who lives near Fairplay, was her brother. A great many friends attended the funeral.

After a Long Illness.

Mr. Wyatt Smith, who was a native of Green county, but who had lived in Adair for the last forty years, and in Columbia for more than twenty years, died at his late home, in the Tutt Addition, last Friday morning. He was sixty-seven years of age, and was a victim of heart trouble. He was a plasterer by trade, but had not been able to work for several years. He leaves a wife and five or six children, three grown daughters, two of them married, being in the South. His wife was a daughter of Mr. N. B. Do-honey.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist church Saturday forenoon, conducted by Rev. S. J. Thompson, assisted by Eld. Z. T. Williams and Rev. O. P. Bush. The interment was in the Columbia cemetery, a great many friends were present to express their sympathy to the surviving members of the family.

Public Sale.

On Thursday, the 10th day of February, we will sell at the late residence of W. T. Walker, and where we reside, the following property, at public outcry. Two head of horses and two mules; six head of cattle; several stacks of hay; one good binder and a lot of farming tools, household and kitchen furniture. We will also sell our farm, containing 175 acres, 18 acres first bottom land, privately, and if not sold by date of sale will sell it to the highest bidder on that date.

The public sale will begin at 9 a. m. Ellen Walker, Josie Walker.

There are several negro men in jail and have been for months. A while before Christmas one or two broke out with a disease which was pronounced small-pox. It was not in an aggravated form, but the health officer, Dr. S. P. Miller, took the precaution to have the inmates of the jail, including the jailer and his family quarantined, hence there is no danger of the disease spreading. Dr. Russell, who is not a health officer, but has seen the patients, reports to The News also that it is small-pox, in a light form. The disease is not interfering with the affairs of Columbia, every body moving along in the even tenor of their way.

Mr. Geo. W. Hancock, of Taylor county, and Mr. C. C. Warren, of Green county, made application before Judge Carter, last week, for law licenses. The court appointed Mr. Gordon Montgomery and Mr. L. C. Winfrey to examine the applicants. The examinations being satisfactory, the Clerk was ordered to issue licenses to said applicants.

Wanted at Lindsey-Wilson wood 4 feet, and 18 inches for heating stoves, also hogs net. 12-tf. Moss & Chandler.

Mr. J. D. Todd, who was kicked by a mule two months ago, breaking one of his legs, was in town last Friday, the first time since the accident occurred.

Judge Carter's next court will be held at Burkesville, Russell court to follow.

Whistling.

We read in the Courier-Journal of recent date that at the conclusion of an address by Speaker Clark, in the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., the wife of Congressman Kincheloe was repeatedly encored while whistling several times. What an age of advancement in the arts and sciences. Would one of her countryfolk female fellowfolk be encored for practicing such frivolities right out in meeting. This, coupled with our craze for national preparedness, carries me back to the days of Auld Lang Syne and between the two there hangs a tale. "Aunt" Sytha Lester, whose parents being dead, made her home at my father's. She was of a remarkable romantic turn of mind, and as she was my senior by a few years, she would frequently relate imaginary stories of Indians, wild animals and generally a boy with gun and dogs that bagged the bear, killed a great many Indians, and making many hair-breadth escapes.

It seemed to require but little effort on her part and would occasionally be continued indefinitely. Some of them would have appeared well in print, while they were intensely interesting to me and would usually be told in consideration of work on flower beds or other items of light labor which most always preceded the narrative. Once she was due me an account of how a man taught a whistling school and after giving a general outline of the proceedings at a school of this kind, and in order to better demonstrate the matter would assume quite a commanding attitude, facing the scholars and call out—"attention, all!" "Pre-pare-to-pucker," which always convulsed the scholars and prevented the pucker. She explained to me, however, that next day he commanded each pupil to chew an unripe persimmon after which their lips couldn't unpudder without being greased. Although I took several lessons, and as Dr. Benjamin Franklin said of himself, (I paid dear for my whistling.) I have never become a good whistler, though this was many years ago. We have not observed much improvement in the act, for many whistle just like grandma and granddad did.

Greensburg Loose Leaf House.

The Greensburg Tobacco market has sold for the past week 20,000 pounds of tobacco at a good price on both burley and dark tobacco. Prices ranging on burley from $3 to $19 per hundred pounds, dark tobacco from $3 to $11.25 per hundred.

We have sold a number of good crops of dark tobacco at an average of 8, 8 1/2 and 9, including the entire crop of lugs and leaf.

We have sold a number of good crops of burley tobacco at a high average this week. The highest for the week was one good crop of burley grown by Mr. A. H. Akin, of Greensburg, sold yesterday at an average of $16.50.

Bring us some of your good burley and we will assure you to get the market value.

Bogard, Jan. 8, 1916.
Editor News:

You will please find enclosed $1.00 to pay for the good old paper, The Adair County News, for the year 1916. We feel that we can't do without it. It brings much sadness as well as many joys. We also received a copy of the Green County Record that contained the obituary of our dear Brother, Sandidge. We were so sorry to hear of his death. Wish we could have been with him during his last illness. His dear family has our deepest sympathy. Bro. Sandidge became my pastor soon after I joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at old Union, and continued so for 29 years. 18 Years of that time I served as Deacon and Treasurer of that organization.

It was a pleasure indeed for me to help to collect his salary. In looking over the old record I find there is a very, very small per cent. of the membership left that was there when I begun collecting in 1890. The Hughes, Robertsons, Grissoms, Turks, Allens, Stotts, Moores, Logans, Bradshaws, Staples, Hindmans, Walkers, Flowers, Diddles, and Wilmores. Some have gone to other states and many have gone on to their reward. I don't know whether I will ever be back in Old Kentucky again or not, but I hope to.

When Robert was back there last summer Mr. R. F. Paull said to him: "Bob, when your father landed in Columbia two years ago I believe he was the happiest person I ever saw. I thought he was going to shout right here on the square." Now Mr. Paull, if you don't think that leaving home, and coming back to Old Adair is not enough to make any body feel like shouting, just ask Mr. Sid Barbee, for he has tried it several times. And just look at Mr. Will McFarland when he took his trip to California. He said when he got back to Green river bridge and went up over the ridge and crossed over into Adair he shouted right there.

We certainly enjoyed reading Mr. "Mc's." account of his wonderful trip. We have just received this week's News. So sorry for Jo Henry and Etta. It is hard to give up our dear children when they take sick and die a natural death and so much the sadder when it comes like this. May the good Lord bless them in this sad bereavement.

We certainly enjoyed reading a letter from our old friend, J. M. Logan. Wish more of the boys from other states would write occasionally. I noticed in Mr. M. L. White's communication that he gave his age as passing his 58th wheat harvest. When I read it I thought it must be a misprint as it may be that is all he remembers of passing. We thought when he was teaching in Missouri that he had already reached his three score and ten. His brother, B. C., is 55 or 56 and he looks to be 20 years younger than the old gent.

We certainly enjoyed Charley Browning's visit with us last summer and was glad to have "Sawney" back with us again. He has improved in health and has a nice job in Carrollton, Mo., at a good salary.

We have missed Jim Shirley mightily during the last year, but I guess Milltown feels like our loss is their gain.

Coris Shirley, of Grandfield, Okla., has been visiting here for the past few days. He is a brother to Messrs. J. R. and R. W. Shirley, Milltown, Ky. He was born and raised near Milltown, but has been in the West for several years.

Mr. Ben Frank Flowers, of Chillicothe, Mo., dropped down in Bogard last summer and spent a day and night with us. He had just been to visit his mother, Mrs. Lou Staples Flowers, of Paducah, Ky. Also visited his cousin, Mrs. Minnie Pyle, of South-east Missouri. We enjoyed his short visit with us very much.

Our little town, Bogard, is now equipped with electric lights. Carrollton has run a line north 8 miles to our place and then west 2½ miles to Bogard. They have the poles dropped along the northern route of a mile which runs by our house and then east 7 miles to Bosworth. Lina will run a line south 5 miles and tap the Bosworth line. So the Carrollton plant will furnish the power for the three towns.

My son, Coakley, is still running his restaurant and grocery store in Bogard and is enjoying a fine trade. Robert is starting in on his fourth year on the farm with Mr. W. F. Butcher. Lethia resigned her position as Assistant Cashier of the Bogard Bank the first of November. She got married to Mr. Alva Burbridge and they have gone to New Mexico to make that their future home. Emma is studying music. Phoebe and Helen are in school. Mrs. Wilmore and myself are enjoying fine health. I weigh right around 170 pounds and she is not far behind.

I will close by wishing the News and its many readers a happy and prosperous year
Yours Respectfully,
L. M. Wilmore.

This Cure Dates From October 3, 1899.

Oct. 3, 1899 —"Catarrh of the stomach. Was nearly starved.
After taking Peruna I have a good appetite."
Sept. 11, 1904 —"I can assure you that I am still a friend of Peruna. My health is still good." April 23, 1906 —"Yes, I am still a friend of Peruna. Will be as long as I live. I keep it in the house all the time."
Dec. 18, 1907 —"I recommend Peruna so often that they call me the Peruna doctor. Peruna recommends itself when once tried."
Dec. 27, 1908 —"I still tell everybody I can that Peruna is the best medicine in the world."
Aug. 15, 1909 —"Peruna saved my life years ago. I still take it when I have a cold."
Jan. 4, 1910 —"I was threatened with pneumonia. Peruna saved me."
May 17, 1912 —"I am glad to do anything I can for Peruna."
May 6, 1914 —"I have always been a nurse. Peruna has helped me in my work more than all other medicines."
Mar. 22, 1915 —"I have divided my bottle of Peruna with people many times. It always helps."

The above quotations give a vague glimpse of the correspondence we have had with Mrs. Tanner since 1899. Our files, which cover twenty-five years, include many similar correspondents.

An Englishman who stopped over night at a western American hotel noticed that instead of hearing a bell at meal time the proprietor went to the front door and fired a double-barreled shot-

Englishman commented on this strange procedure.

"That's a novel idea of yours,"
he remarked to the proprietor,
"calling your guests by firing a

$1,000,000.00
FOR A NEW STOMACH

It is said that one of America's best known millionaires—a man who ruined his digestion in the pursuit of wealth—stated that he would pay a million dollars for a new stomach.

But, while surgeons have become very skillful in performing operations that were once considered impossible, nobody has stepped forward and offered to sell his stomach to that millionaire. Your stomach is worth more than a million dollars to you. It is LIFE to you.

This millionaire's stomach is so ruined by abuse that it can never be made "as good as new" by any medicine. But YOUR stomach, if properly aided NOW can be restored to its normal condition.

If YOU suffer from indigestion, "heartburn," gas in stomach, foul breath, sense of fullness after eating, sour stomach, and will act NOW instead of delaying longer, you can get PROMPT relief.

DR. THACHER'S
Liver and Blood Syrup

will set your stomach right, and do it quickly.
It will stimulate and regulate your liver, which supplies bile to the stomach. It will thus provide the stomach with JUST WHAT IT NEEDS in order to do its wonderful work of digestion more perfectly.

It will lubricate your bowels, and cause them to move naturally and gently. It will get your whole digestive "workshop" into working order, cleanse it, oil up the "machinery," strengthen it—and you'll be AMAZED at the change.

Your appetite will improve. Feel GOOD to you. There will be no discomfort or pains. You'll feel STYLISH.
Life will be better worth the living.

DO IT NOW—give your stomach the best it is calling for, before you are too late and find that your stomach is now BEYOND REPAIR. Dealers sell 50c and $1.00 bottles.

Considerable speculation has gone the round as to the expense of building the Columbia and Stanford road. It should be understood that the road, as started and which will be completed to the creek, is being made fourteen feet wide—three wagon loads wide and two deep of crushed stone with ample screenings for cover and which is rolled until hard. Beyond the creek the stone will be only nine feet wide, a saving in stone of one third of the road now being built. At this date we have not ascertained the cost of the road but having an opportunity to see Mr. U. M. Grider, boss of the rock quarry, we find that the rock, ready for the crusher at the quarry has cost the county about 48½ cents per perch. This cost falls far below the suspicions of some who seemed to fear that the quarrying was costing entirely too much. So far as we know and so far as our informants who know the business, the rock is being quarried at a very conservative price if not really below the averaged. The court will meet in a few days and canvass the entire situation at which time we hope to be in position to give further information. The road that has been completed is good and but for the extreme bad weather would have moved faster and doubtless cheaper. Mr. Grider who manages the quarry is an experienced man and knows how to get good results.

Senator Trigg's pauper-idiot bill was killed and properly so. The nature of the bill was to shift half the responsibility of caring for this class of the State's unfortunates to the counties. While the State is in debt, it would not be right to shift its responsibility to the counties. A pauper idiot is allowed $75.00 per annum for his or her care, and to force the counties to pay half the amount would not be right, in our judgment. Let the State cut down expenses by doing away with useless offices, and in some instances salaries might be reduced. Senators Charley Montgomery and Rount. Antle fought the bill. Senator Trigg doubtless thought his bill would reduce expenses without being burdensome, but his judgment was wrong.

Senator B. M. Taylor from the counties of Green, Hart and Laruette, is a Republican and is very much in the minority, but on every proposition that has come before the Senate, touching the interest of the State, he has stood for the right. He is a gentleman of extra fine sense, hence he knows the needs of the people.

Good Road Proposition.

Editor News:—

If you will allow me space in your valuable paper, I will write a short letter concerning the road proposition as some of us see it out here in the mud.

Now I will begin by saying, we are for good roads if they will go after them in the right way, but we cannot see the point in bonding the county to pay for them. We would like to see good roads, and we would also like to see them paid for as we get them. Now of course some of the men who are in favor of bonding say, this can never be done, but I say it can. They claim that 5 per cent., over what we are paying now, will pay the whole thing in less than twenty years. Now if this is true, why not make it 15 or 25 per cent., and pay as we go. I know if we could pay 5 per cent., more we could pay 25 per cent., more. It is a fact that no one disputes we cannot use all the money at once, and what is the use of paying interest on those bonds when the money will be idle for so long? Why not pay for the work as it is done and save the interest. Did any one ever tell in their letters that they wrote, about how easy they could pay off the bonds, and how much interest we would have to pay? I will answer this by saying, not that I ever saw. Now I am going to tell what my figures make it, and if I make a mistake, I hope some one will correct it.

Now, the interest on one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars for five years, (that is as short time as bonds are issued for) would be $30,500. If the bonds were taken up at the end of the five years that would raise the amount up to $155,500. Now, the State Road Commissioner said that the State would not pay their part under ten years. Now we would have to pay the interest on that which would be $7,625, making a grand total of $163,125.

Now, if I am not mistaken, these figures are correct. But I never have seen anyone's statement concerning these matters before. I have heard men say that to vote the bond and let the next generation pay for the roads as we would, but then for them to use. I had wondered if those men were to die and go up to the Golden Gate and St. Peter was to meet them there and say there was something left undone that they should have done before the came, would they say to him charge it to the next generation? For I cannot consume all the room and they can use what we leave. Now if that is what they expect to get through on I would advise them to read their Bibles closer than they have been. I just read a letter from Mr. J. H. Phelps from Russell county. I suppose he seems to think we are a very ignorant set of people. I will not say that he is not right, but we don't like to be told of it in the public. He says that if we don't bond the county our boys will soon leave us with tears in their eyes for the West. I am very sorry Mr. Phelps feels this way about it for it is very distressing to see your loved ones getting ready to leave you, never expecting to come back until their poor old fathers plod through the mud and makes money enough to send to them so they can make him a visit. Now this is a very disheartening condition I know, but what could be worse than for them to leave home and poor old father could not send them money to get back on because it took all he could possibly spare to pay the interest on the bonds. Poor boy, would he not be in a fix? With all good will and respect for Mr. Phelps I am going to say I think he is not thinking what he is writing. Of course he has put it to us pretty hard, but I don't think he meant anything by what he said. Now he should remember there was quite a difference in the amount that that Russell county asked for and what Adair county wanted more than three times what his county ask for. Of course they got and we did not, but I expect that there is men who voted for the bonds that if it was to do over they would vote against them.

Well, as my communication is getting lengthy I will close.

A Paper from Dr. Miller.

As jail physician and health officer of Adair county, I wish to make a statement in regard to the present epidemic of small pox now existing in the jail at Columbia, Ky. On the 26th day of December, 1915, I was called to the jail by Mr. C. G. Jeffries, our most efficient jailer, an officer that every Adair county citizen should be justly proud of, as he never neglects an opportunity to do any thing in his power that pertains to the health, welfare and comfort of the poor unfortunate man behind the bars. Arriving at the jail, I found one John Henry Rice, of Columbia, suffering from a very suspicious breaking out or eruption with shot-like feeling under the skin upon the scalp, edges of hair, face, palms of hands, soles of feet and other scattered over the body. I at once gave it as my opinion as a case of smallpox. He then informed me that Dr. C. M. Russell had been called by John Henry previous to calling me, and he gave it as his opinion that it was smallpox. The case was seen again next day by Dr. Claypool, Dr. O. P. Miller and myself, all confirming the above diagnosis, all agreeing and pronouncing it smallpox, yet there are people in the town of Columbia who claim they do not believe that it is smallpox, and are criticising and censuring the board of health and health officer for quarantining and trying to stop the spread of this terrible disease. There are people who are so ignorant that they will stand up and contend after the best physicians in the land have given their honest opinion that they are wrong, and actually are opposed to the health officer, who is trying to protect their health and lives by using every known method to the medical profession, to save them and their families from a scarred face or a premature grave. To those who talk and believe that way I have no remedy, and nothing more to say except, it is folly to be wise when ignorance is bliss. The safe plan in case there is smallpox in the country is to be vaccinated. When? Right now, just as soon as you can. Fortunately the method of prevention is as safe and certain in its action as it is cheap and easy to obtain. Vaccination and revaccination properly done with reliable virus, is a certain preventive, and is free from danger. This is conclusive of the scientific world, after large experience and full investigation, and may be confidently relied upon. Vaccination should always be done by a competent physician, and the person should be seen by him from time to time that he may know that a perfect result has been secured. Though simple and painless, it is one most important operations that one can ever have done. As imperfect or spurious vaccination can only mislead and give rise to a false sense of security. Failure of the vaccination to take only means that the virus was inert and is no evidence that the person will not take smallpox. As is commonly believed, varioloid may occur in persons partially vaccinated, but it has been demonstrated by experience of thousands of observers under the most trying exposures and tests that a thoroughly vaccinated person will not take smallpox, although living and sleeping in the room with it. This dreadful scourge would be immediately and permanently stamped out if vaccination should be promptly and seriously practiced. It is unlawful to remain unvaccinated at any time, but in the face of existing conditions intelligent people should not wait for the law to force them to an evident duty. Health and school boards, town trustees and fiscal courts and corporations and business people every where should co-operate systematically and earnestly in providing and requiring vaccine vaccination for all within their respective jurisdiction or in their employ. The business men in many places, especially in smaller cities and towns, where facilities for caring for cases of this disease are usually inadequate, have suffered, and are continually liable to suffer incalculable loss from outbreaks which paralyze their trade, and which can only be certainly prevented by general vaccination. The law is ample to secure this, and the time has come for its uniform enforcement by persuasion if possible, but by legal process where persuasion, explanation and pleas for the public welfare fail. Next to the difficulty in getting the people vaccinated, the failure of physicians to recognize and report and properly isolate first cases have caused most trouble in management. There might be difficulty in making a diagnosis during the first days under some circumstances, but when smallpox is epidemic all over the country and all have reason and warning to be on the lookout for cases, or even for suspicious symptoms, there is no longer any excuse for physicians who fail to recognize the disease and to cordially co-operate with the authorities in preventing the spread, excluding chickenpox, which is essentially a disease of childhood. It does not look like anything else and the symptoms point to nothing else. The pain in the back, the hard, shot-like papules, appearing first in the edge of the hair, on the forehead, and then on the wrists, and all the time more abundant on the face and over exposed portions of the body. The disappearance of fever and feeling of relief when the eruption appears, and the regularity of the successive stages of the eruption taken altogether make a picture never to be forgotten by a careful observer. The fact should be emphasized over and over again, too, that adults almost never have chickenpox. When unvaccinated, grown people have a contagious eruptive disease under existing conditions they should be isolated and at least reported as suspicious until some competent authority decides that it is not smallpox. It should be constantly borne in mind, also, that there is no such disease as Elephant itch, African itch, Army itch, Cedar itch, or Cuban itch, but these are "Nigger" names for smallpox. In all the hundreds of instances where the disease was reported under these and other misleading designations, our expert inspectors have found only genuine and unmistakable smallpox.

The law plainly requires physicians and heads of families to report all cases of smallpox or other communicable diseases to their respective County Municipal Boards of Health within the first 24 hours and that they shall obey the rules and regulations of such boards relating thereto, and ample penalties are provided for failure to do so. The law also gives such boards full authority to provide hospital, physicians, nurses, guards, and all other things needful in managing and stamping out the disease at the expense of the County or Municipality, where the persons afflicted are indigent, and the authority has been sustained and even extended in frequent decisions of the Court of Appeals. Fortunately more and more of the Fiscal officials and intelligent people are recognizing the necessity of enforcing the law at the onset as a means of minimizing the expense and trouble of management. Most of our county and municipal boards have distinctly less trouble in securing moral and financial support than in former years. If this could be further developed so that the precautions herein suggested could be effectively enforced throughout Kentucky for the next six weeks we would have no more smallpox. If successive generations were systematically vaccinated we would never have any more smallpox. Had those three cases at the jail been vaccinated at the proper time we would not have had any use for the quarantine that now exists to protect the lives and health of Adair county citizens. John Henry Rice, the first one to take smallpox at the jail, is apparently about well. Eddie Wagoner seems to be improving nicely and "Dog" Wagoner, who broke out last week, seems to be convalescing. All are doing well, and if no new cases break out I am of the opinion that those cases will soon recover.

Health Officer of Adair County.

Mrs. Sallie Coleman, who died in St. Louis, was born and reared in Adair county. Her remains reached here last Friday night and Saturday they were interred at Glenville. She was a lady highly respected and a large circle of friends attended the burying.

Last week in reporting the list of Jurymen, we gave the name of "J. Z. Dulworth," as we received it, when it should have been J. Z. Pickett. In the reserve list Ben Conover's name appeared, which was a mistake on the part of the Sheriff. It should have been J. C. Strange.

A young horse, the property of Mr. R. H. Price, in some way, got one of its legs broken last Wednesday.

Since writing the above we learn from Mr. Price that his colt's leg was not broken, but a joint knocked out of its socket.

Mr. Levi Bragg, who had been a merchant at East Fork, Metcalfe county, for forty years or more, died last week. He was about sixty-eight years old, and was a man who had the confidence of the people. He was never married.

The coldest weather experienced here for eight or ten years, came last week. Farmers could do nothing but sit by good fires, and the business men of Columbia hovered close to stoves.

F. L. Selby, of Russell county, sold Perry Hutchison 47 acres of land, lying near Cane Valley, this county, for $535. The deed was made last Thursday.

Edgar Harris lost a fine hog last Thursday. He was driving it to town for the market when it evidently got too hot and died. It would have brought about $14.

It cost 60 cents less to get married now than it did ten days ago. The Government says that the war stamp on licenses is no longer necessary.

Music as an Aid in the Development of Character.

Methods of education have undergone absolute change in the last few years. Formerly instruction began with the adult's conception of things; the object being to impart this knowledge to the child. Modern methods begin with the child's experience and the things which interest him, and broaden out to include the whole field of learning. Formerly the effort was to secure opportunities for education; now the perplexing question is to choose, from the multiplicity of opportunities, the best. There is no other branch of study which provides so great variety, or such all around development, mechanical, intellectual and artistic, as music. Music, therefore, has become an essential element in the training of children.

No expenditure in time, money and hard work in after life can make up for the lost opportunity in early childhood. The mind and muscles gradually lose their elasticity and pliability. The organ of hearing becomes less sensitive, and the memory less retentive, imagination becomes less vivid, temperament loses its finer qualities by contact with the more practical side of life, and a child's time becomes more and more occupied as the years advance. Very few children, if any, have no musical capacity. The best time to discover and develop this ability is before it has been obliterated through neglect.

Music is a language to interpret feeling. The difference between the spoken language and the tone language is this: by words we express chiefly our thoughts, while by tones we mainly give expression to our emotional states. It is true that in the word language our thoughts are often tinged with feeling and this naturally expresses itself in the musical intonations of the voice. It is also true that in the tone language there is plenty of scope for thought activity, especially in the matter of musical form; but in music feeling comes first and thought takes second place. Quoting from a kindergarten teacher: "Emotion will express itself; and emotion and expression act and react upon each other. Unrefined expression arouses unrefined emotion, which in turn suggests unrefined thought, which is quite liable to stimulate ignoble action. Music should stimulate refined emotion and provide a refined form of expression, I have noticed with regret that with the so-called rag-time music, a deplorable use of slang and ill-manners seem to move together, and have developed with great rapidity among the class of people where wealth has been so suddenly secured as to prevent the appropriate culture to balance the bank account. This subject is worthy of thoughtful consideration because there is need of effort on the part of educators and parents to overcome this evil. It prevails to an alarming degree, and is even poisoning those of good inheritance."

The study of music teaches the child to become a good listener. It also teaches the child the art of expression, and this in reality is the aim and object of all living and learning. There is an imperative need for self-expression in every soul. The great music came into existence because it was in full affinity with the best thoughts stirring in fresh, earnest souls. The same unsatisfied, deep want that shrank from the old Puritanic creed and practice; that yearned for the beauty of holiness, and for communion with the Father in some sincere way of one's own without profession; that kindled with ideals of a heaven on earth and a reign of love in harmony with Nature's beauty and the prophecies of art,—found unwonted comfort in the strains of our composers.

Children should learn to understand and appreciate music as a part of their general education. In a city there are always after noon concerts to be attended in the winter months, especially those of fine orchestral music intended for children. The life story of each of the great composers should be known, the numbers on the program explained as far as possible, the motive made clear and the child's ear taught to follow the different instruments. Children love music, and will listen delightedly to a performance that is wholly classical. Where such concerts are beyond the reach, a mother should try in some way to provide a substitute for them. Even in country places amateur recitals can be arranged with little trouble. It is a duty we owe our children to give them an intelligent knowledge of the famous composers and their works.

Music is as essential to childhood as is play. They revel in strains of melody with the same freedom as does the butterfly when fitting among the flowers

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from M. E. Myers, Morrison, Tenn., and Ada Hamersmith, 118 W. Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, non-gripping—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

in the sunlight. Their ear is trained at an early age, but later becomes conscious thought, and with it the need of careful guidance. Then care must be exercised in the selections they hear, and the very best of both instrumental and vocal music should be brought within their reach and they should be permitted to enjoy it.

Like painting or drawing, music is an educative force, but probably has more influence in character-building than either. It not only appeals to the ear with the pleasures of sound, but teaches lessons of refinement, truth and beauty. Nothing makes the home circle more attractive than music. Gathered around a musical instrument, all the members of the family pass a happy evening, and this is not the only benefit to be derived, for the entire group is lifted to a higher mental and spiritual plain.

The wise mother will provide her home with the best victrola or phonograph that she can purchase, so that her children may hear the very best instrumental and vocal music. Children will never outlive the impressions made, as gathered around the table in the living room they listen to the great patriotic songs, religious melodies and selections from the best operas.

If music is a feature in the home life it is equally so in the school days of the child. Nothing contributes so materially to his development, and it should conform to the same high standards in literature.

It is impossible to develop music appreciation without music to appreciate—no interpretation without the interpretation of artists. Good music will become popular by much hearing, as is the case in Europe. Never before in the history of education has there been such opportunity for hearing, for intimate and analytical study of form and content, both vocal and instrumental.

Home music should always possess exquisite refinement. Nothing coarse, nothing tawdry, should be tolerated in fireside song With this limitation there is plenty of music, gay, merry, tender, lifting, and sweetly appealing to whatever is best in the hearts of those who sing or play, and those who listen. If the laddie has a fancy for the mandolin or a banjo, by all means let him have it. A boy is safe if he has some innocent hobby that keeps him happy in his home evenings. The banjo does this, and the banjo. Democratic among instruments as no other is, may be carried anywhere and costs little.

Long before the Jews were carried away to Babylon, David, the Shesherd boy who became a king, played on his harp to charm away the demon of melancholy that had fastened upon Saul, and the moody monarch heard, and was saved. Music has this office still to soothe pained hearts, and uplift depressed souls.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave
Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Editor News:—

This leaves me in the sunny South where the winters are warm and snow unknown. I know nothing of the snow storm or those cold North winds that are felt in old Kentucky. It is cold enough some time to save meat. It is too warm now for that here. Last week I did not have fire in my school house. It was warm enough without it.

Times are getting better here all the time.

The farmers are preparing for a large cotton crop. Mules are very high. They are worth about $250 to $300 a head, and very common at that.

I have taught five weeks, and will begin on the sixth week in the morning. I have a five months school, and will get out in April. I have a good neighborhood, as good as you will find here, and like most all the people I have to deal with.

I am located on the National Highway running from New York to Jacksonville, Fla., and am in a few hundred yards of the Georgia Southern railroad. It runs from Macon, Georgia, to Jacksonville, Fla. You can hear an auto or train most any time in the day or night that you want to.

I understand the Dixie Highway will cost $20,000,000. If you will give me the money you may have the road.

We had a nice Christmas, and every thing passed off well.

I would be glad if the Legislature of Kentucky would do away with the county certificate, and let it be an elementary certificate of the same grade and good any where in the State. I do not like the idea, of the State Normal ruling the Legislature of the State. I do not think they should dictate laws to rule the rural school. I think that the teachers of the rural schools should be consulted as well as the State Normals. I think the teachers in the rural district have as much right to suggest legislation on the school laws as the State Normal Schools. The certification of teachers has been a graft in Kentucky for years, and I would love to see it stopped. If a teacher holds a first or second class certificate in one county it ought to be good in any State. Lawyers are good, why not teachers? Doctors are good, why not a teacher? Why compel a teacher to go over to another county and take the same examination he would at home in order to teach in that county? There is no good reason for that law, nor never was. The only reason for it is graft. Now if you can fix it so the State will have it to pay, you will soon do away with that obnoxious law. Now is the time for the members of the Legislature to make their mark. I hope the teachers will rise up and help to stop this graft.

With best wishes to The News and its readers.

Jas. O. Prock.

Rugby,

Mr. T. J. Rosson, one of our best citizens passed over deaths river last Tuesday, January 11, at 8 p. m. He had been confined to his bed since last August and suffered from tuberculosis, and his lungs, kidneys, stomach and bowels were affected. He has suffered death hundreds of times before he died. He was 54 years, 7 months and 5 days old, and had been a member of the M. E. Church South for 21 years. He was trustee of the Breeding church and a zealous member since it was built and his home was the preacher's home. He leaves a bereaved widow and two children, Birdie and Alvin, to mourn his loss. He made a model husband and father and they will miss him so much. The neighborhood will miss him for he was a friend to the poor and the orphans, and if he could not help any one he would not pull them down. He was interred in the family burial ground, near here.

The funeral services were conducted at the graveyard by Rev. Winston Roe, and a large crowd was present. We ask that his family and friends may meet him in Heaven.

During Christmas a girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simpson and it only lived four days. Your scribe tenders them his deepest sympathy. Mrs. Simpson has been in a critical condition since and has had several doctors and nurses waiting on her.

John Rosson, of Red Lick, was up to the burial of his brother last Wednesday.

Jack Brogy and family visited at T. J. Thompson's last week.

Mrs. Kate Akin, who has been visiting in Texas for several months, has returned home.

The Woodman delegation from here attended their meeting at Gradyville, last Saturday night.

Our Sunday School has disbanded until warmer weather.

Mrs. Frances Rupe still stays in a poor condition with her leg.

Mr. Austen Bryant and Miss Lucy Rossen were married last Sunday by Rev. H. T. Jessee. Mr. Bryant is a prosperous young farmer from Fairplay, and Miss Rossen is the daughter of Eli Rossen, of this place, and is one of the counties best accomplished girls. She will be greatly missed among the younger set.

Arthur Curry has moved from Gradyville to near Birds, and we welcome him here.

Mr. Lawrence Harvey is selling out to go to Illinois, and will leave in March. We hate to give him up, for he is one of our best neighbors.
